REFERENCES

I had the pleasure of working with Chloe during her six-month internship at the Sephora University Training Team, where she was my assistant. I am very impressed with her professionalism, commitment, and teamwork skills.

Chloe is highly proactive, always taking the initiative and willingly engaging in various tasks. She can effectively adapt to changing circumstances while providing meticulously thought-out solutions. She has taken care of every detail in every project she has worked on, and her ideas have brought a new quality.

She is open to feedback and can quickly draw conclusions from potential mistakes, which is evidence of her ability to constantly develop. One of her most valuable traits is her exceptional interpersonal skills—she easily establishes relationships with others, which significantly improves communication and teamwork.

Chloe also stands out for her quick learning and professionalism in every aspect of her work, making her an irreplaceable member of the team. I am sure that every organization with the opportunity to work with her will gain a valuable and competent employee.

I can confidently recommend Chloe as someone who is extremely valuable, committed, and trustworthy.

Best regards,
